

WANATA

Ship – 1442 tons

Captain:

Number of Passengers: 820

Deaths: 33 children, and 6 adults – 5 more died after arrival.

Sailed: from Liverpool Thursday, June 10, 1852, and 97 days later

Sailed into Hobson's Bay, later renamed Port Philip Bay on Friday, September 17, 1852.

The Wanata's layout as a double-deck vessel created overcrowding and inadequate ventilation, making the ship more susceptible to the spread of contagious illness and disease. Because of typhus "fever" the Wanata was placed in quarantine for more than 2 weeks, anchored off St. Kilda, before passengers were cleared to disembark on Monday, October 4, 1852. The Quarantine Station at Portsea was established just one month later in November. William (Willy) & Anne Michael & their two daughters Mary & Janet sailed on this voyage to Melbourne. Janet the youngest was one of the 33 children who did not survive the trip and died at sea.

The ships placed in quarantine in Hobson's Bay, and ordered to the Quarantine Anchorage off the St. Kilda shore, were,—

1852, September 17th, the Wanata
October 15th, the Lady Eveline.

1852, October 19th, H.M.S.S. Vulcan.
" 28th, the Chance.

The Wanata.—This ship reported on her arrival that eighteen cases of typhus fever had occurred on the voyage, twenty of pertussis, and a few of measles, and that typhus fever then existed. The sick were transhipped into the Fanny, a vessel of 950 tons, hired for the purpose of an hospital ship, where three adults died of fever. She received pratique on the 4th October.

Extract from Thomas Hunt's Report – Victoria's Health Officer

The Wanata — From the Health Officer at Williams Town who visited the ship in the usual manner yesterday, we learn no fresh cases of either hooping cough or fever had taken place, and that the latter was of a very mild description. Water from Town was brought to the ship by the Vesta steamer, and every thing has been sent on board that can contribute to the comfort of the emigrants; a draft to another ship will doubtless be made in a day or two.

The Wanata was visited yesterday by the Health Officer at Williams Town, and the ship Fanny not being far from the Wanata, it was considered prudent to draft all the sick from the latter vessel and place them on board the Fanny, which was done by the ship's boats, both ships being now placed in strict quarantine. Should no fresh cases arise, the Wanata will be relieved in a few days, but we are sorry to say that another case of fever occurred on Thursday evening.

Mary Michael's Far Side of the World

Mary Michael was christened in the Ullapool church on Thursday, February 28, 1850. Mary's parents, William and Ann Michael migrated to Australia in 1852 aboard the sailing ship 'Wanata'. The ship's tonnage was 1,442 and carried 820 passengers. Departing from Liverpool on the 10 June the voyage to Melbourne took 97 days, arriving off Gellibrand Point, Williamstown on 17 September. The health officer visited the ship and immediately put the vessel in quarantine anchored off shore from St Kilda, because of 'fever'. Mary lost a younger sister, Janet, one of 33 children and 6 adult deaths, during the voyage. The quarantine was lifted on 4 October and the Wanata anchored in preparation for disembarking.

Mary's father William (Willy), was a shepherd whose first work in Australia was shepherding near Ballarat for Captain Hepburn rising to overseer. He next went to Laanecoorie as a station manager for Mr Cay. Later he acquired part of Murphy's waterholes and started farming on his own account besides continuing to oversee the principle portion of Mr Cay's buying and selling for another five years. Eventually he returned to Laanecoorie, not far from Woodstock, and over a period of time by adding to his original 49 acres came to hold 1000 acres, developing it for cropping and dairying as well as carrying sheep and along the way raised with Ann two surviving sons and two surviving girls.
